WE SUPPORT THE ANGLICAN CHURCH'S BAN ON POLITICS IN THE CHURCH

THE ATHEISTS IN KENYA SOCIETY fully supports the move by the Anglican Church's leadership to forbid politicians from using the church as a platform to advance their political agenda.

Kenya, as a liberal democracy, will only thrive where the secular and religious domains keep a safe distance from each other.

We would like, in particular, to caution Kenyans against the Deputy President, William Ruto who in our view has cleverly cultivated a Christian nationalistic image, subtly appropriating Pentecostal language in his public speeches. The Deputy President should stop taking advantage of the socio-economic vulnerabilities of unemployed youth.
